Overview

Your home health agency is expected to be in compliance with the new CoPs effective January 13, 2018. There are no more delays, no grace period. You will be expected to have implemented action plans to be in compliance with Infection Control, Quality Assessment and Performance Improvement, Emergency Preparedness; and Patient Rights and other Conditions with multiple revised standards. This one-day interactive program has been totally re-vamped and is based on the newly published Interpretive Guidelines published by CMS as well as the instructors' extensive mock survey experience and knowledge of previously published guidance to surveyors.

Through their consulting firm of McCoy & Connolly, Nancy McCoy and Mary Lou Connolly have assisted many home health agencies to achieve CoP compliance over the past fifteen years. In this seminar, they will focus on actions to take to ensure your home health agency meets all Expected Outcomes.

Source documents will be provided and reviewed at the workshop. This guidance will allow participants to further their education outside the class and arm them with the tools to research answers to questions that arise in their agencies.

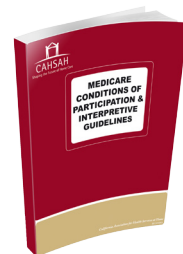

Attendance is recommended for home health agency staff responsible for compliance, performance improvement, direct supervision, administration and ownership/Governing Body.

Learning Objectives

- Cite 3 action items to take to achieve compliance with the QAPI CoP
- Note two new components of the Patient Rights CoP
- Identify two measures that will improve compliance with the Infection Control CoP

Required Resource

It is required to have an updated edition of the Medicare CoPs & Interpretive Guidelines resource with you at the workshop for on-site review. Pre-orders are available for the updated edition of the Medicare CoPs & Interpretive Guidelines through the CAHSAH® Bookstore by calling 916-641-5795, ext. 113, or by entering the quantity you'd like to order to the payment section on the other side of this registration form. Your pre-ordered resource will be available for on-site pick-up at the workshop at morning sign-in.

PRIOR TO ATTENDING THIS WORKSHOP:

This workshop is intended to be interactive; therefore, we recommend a review of the draft version of the Interpretive Guidelines for Home Health CoPs here prior to the workshop. The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) plans to release the final guidelines in December 2017. Your pre-workshop efforts will greatly enhance your learning experience, and will allow for increased discussion and sharing regarding implementation measures.
